How to become an open source
contributor

what is open source

```
while (start<end) {
    if (chars[start] == ' ') {
        start++;
        continue;
    }
}
```

Ways to Contribute

At Konstruct, we believe that every contribution is valuable, not just the code one.

Whether you want to add more details to a specific section or a page, or that you want to fix a typo in the text or in a code example, you are more than welcome to can create a pull request.

For more substantial changes, it is highly suggested that you discuss your idea with us first. You can do that by either creating an issue, or by joining us in our Slack community, and start a thread in the #contributors channel.
